Portfolio and Market Returns

The Bentham Global Income Fund had a total return (after fees) of -1.41% in the month of October, underperforming the benchmark (50% Bloomberg AusBond Bank Bill Index, 50% Bloomberg AusBond Composite Index) by 0.65%. On a before fees basis the fund returned -1.35% for the month, underperforming the benchmark by 0.59%.

Investment markets were weaker in October as investors priced in "higher cash rates for longer" on the back of elevated inflation and stronger than expected growth data, particularly in the US. The conflict in the Middle East also impacted markets and kept oil prices high. Equities and bonds were lower, while credit spreads widened.

The top contributors to performance included Collateralised Loan Obligations (CLO), Residential Mortgage Backed Securities (RMBS) and Global Hybrids; whilst the bottom performing contributors included Global Syndicated Loans, Investment Grade Credit and Global High Yield.

We remain cautious on the investment return outlook because the impact of the globally synchronised rapid interest rate hikes is yet to fully realised. We expect the negative impact of rate hikes to occur with a longer lag than previous rate hike cycles because the extraordinary government stimulus from Covid is still temporarily supporting growth. In addition, we expect tighter credit standards and increased capital costs for banks to weigh on economic growth. Higher rates are having a mixed impact on the household sector, leveraged households are spending less while household savers are benefitting from higher interest income.

Past distributions are no indication of future distributions.

- 1 Calculated as the cents per unit (CPU) distribution at month end divided by the ex-distribution unit price at the start of the month.
- <sup>2</sup> Annual distribution return (Year-to-Date) is calculated as the Total Return (after fees) minus Growth Return. Total Return (after fees) is calculated using pre-distribution month end withdrawal unit price, and assumes distributions are reinvested. Growth Return equals the percentage change in unit price.
