Portfolio and Market Returns

The Bentham Defensive Income Fund (Class A) had a after fees return of 0.29% for the month, outperforming the benchmark by 0.02%.

Portfolio Update

March saw significant market volatility driven by US trade policy uncertainty, before the Trump announcement in early April.

In the US, the S&P 500 fell 5.75%. 10-year Treasury yields were flat at 4.20%. Credit markets softened (US Loan Index spreads widened 17bps, US High Yield Bond spreads widened 67bps), indicating increased risk aversion due to escalating trade tensions and recession concerns.

The Fund was active in the corporate credit, Australian RMBS and semi/supra market during the month. The fund generally reduced exposure to corporate credit and increased exposure to semi/supra credit.

The mandate held a 6.36 year interest duration position at month end, primarily in the Australian, United States and New Zealand markets.

Fund Distributions
Distribution frequency	Monthly
Monthly distribution ⁴	0.38% (Mar 2025)
Target distribution rate (FY25) ⁵	5.0%

¹ Spread over the swap rate.

² The average credit quality is calculated using a duration adjusted Moody's Weighted Average Rating Factor (WARF) for both the S&P and Moody's security credit ratings within a portfolio.

³ An assigned credit rating of BBB-/Baa3 or better by a credit rating agency.

⁴ Calculated as the cents per unit (CPU) distribution at the month end divided by the ex-distribution unit price at the start of the month.

⁵ Target distribution rates for FY25 set at 5.0% of the monthly unit price. Bentham intends to achieve the distribution rate for FY2025 with taxable income. If there is a shortfall of taxable income, the distribution may possibly include a capital return.

The current distribution rate setting was based on the running yield of the Fund as at 30 June 2024 and assumes the Fund continues to achieve an equivalent yield for FY2025.
