² Active Return of the Fund is the difference between the Total Return and the return of the Benchmark. Gross Returns (before fees) are calculated by adding back the fees and expenses deducted. Please refer to the PDS for more information on fees and expenses.

Portfolio and Market Returns

The Bentham Global Income Fund had a total return (after fees) of 0.98% in the month of June, outperforming the benchmark (50% Bloomberg AusBond Bank Bill Index, 50% Bloomberg AusBond Composite Index) by 0.44%. On a before fees basis the fund returned 1.04% for the month, outperforming the benchmark by 0.51%.

In June 2025, there was war then peace, global financial markets proved resilient amidst geopolitical tensions in the Middle East arising when Israel initiated attacks on Iran and the U.S. followed through with bunker busters on nuclear sites. The MSCI was able to advance 2.61% for the month, reflecting investor optimism despite ongoing trade disputes and inflation concerns.

U.S. equity markets continued their upward trajectory, with the S&P 500 reaching a record high by month-end. This rally was underpinned by expectations of U.S. Federal Reserve rate cuts and robust corporate earnings.

Australian 10-year government bond yields declined by 11 basis points in June, ending the month at 4.16%. U.S. Treasury yields also eased across the curve, with the 2-year, 10-year, and 30-year yields falling by 18, 16, and 12 basis points, respectively. The bond market's performance was supported by expectations of monetary easing and a favourable inflation outlook. High-yield corporate bonds outperformed investment-grade counterparts, reflecting improved risk appetite among investors (credit spreads rallying 35 bps).

In Australia, the Reserve Bank did not meet in June but held the cash rate steady at 3.85% at its early July meeting, citing the need for further data to confirm that inflation is on a sustainable path. The S&P/ASX 200 Index delivered a strong performance, gaining 10.2% over the 2024/25 financial year.
